

PART I

THE PRESENT TENSE

Verbs in the present tense occur in four forms, each signaling a different aspect. (Aspect is explained in the Introduction.) Each of these forms conveys information about an action, state, or event that is relevant now.

SIMPLE PRESENT: I study every day.

PRESENT PROGRESSIVE: I am studying right now.

PRESENT PERFECT: I have studied English for two years.

PRESENT PERFECT PROGRESSIVE: I have been studying all day for my test tomorrow.

In the following units, you will learn about these verb forms and the reasons for using them.

This page intentionally left blank

Simple Present

When you refer to habitual actions, customs, and facts, use simple present verb forms.

HABITUAL ACTION: I work in the library.

CUSTOM: Most Americans eat turkey on Thanksgiving Day.

FACT: The earth revolves around the sun.

If you include a time reference, you can also use the simple present to indicate future time.

FUTURE ACTION: The concert starts in five minutes.

Except for be and have, verbs in the simple present follow this pattern:

	Singular	Plural
First Person	I verb	we verb
Second Person	you verb	you verb
Third Person	he, she, it verb + s/es	they verb

As you can see, the base form of the verb is used with the subject pronouns I, you, we, and they and with the nouns these pronouns can replace. For example, the students takes the same verb form as they. An ending, either -s or -es, is added to the verb when the subject pronoun is he, she, or it or a noun these pronouns can replace. The -s ending is used most frequently. The -es ending is used after certain letters or letter combinations.

Letters	Examples
s	pass + es
sh	push + es
ch	march + es
x	box + es
o	do + es
When a verb ends in a consonant and y , change the y to i and add -es .	bury → buries

The verb be is described in Unit 2. In the following chart are the forms of the verb have:

	Singular	Plural
First Person	I have	we have
Second Person	you have	you have
Third Person	he, she, it has	they have

Notice that has is the verb form used with he, she, it, and the nouns these pronouns can replace.

Forming Contractions

In English, verbs are often combined with other words to form contractions. These shortened forms include an apostrophe (') to indicate missing letters. It is important to learn contractions because you will often hear them in conversation or see them in informal writing. Formal writing, though, rarely contains contractions.

The auxiliary verb do is often combined with not to form a contraction. Notice that an apostrophe indicates that the letter o is omitted:

do + not = don't does + not = doesn't

When the question word is the subject of the sentence, the form of the question is similar to the form of a statement.

Statement: Max needs a new key.
Wh-question: Who needs a new key?

Statement: Something is wrong.
Wh-question: What is wrong?

When the question word is any other part of the sentence, the auxiliary verb do comes after the question word and is followed by the subject and the main verb.

Present Perfect

Use the present perfect when you want to refer to a situation that originated in the past but continues into the present or to refer to a past experience that has current relevance.

PAST SITUATION CONTINUING INTO THE PRESENT: I have lived in Dallas for six years.

PAST EXPERIENCE WITH CURRENT RELEVANCE: We have traveled to Alaska three times.

For an experience to be relevant, it is usually related to a possible future experience. In the example “We have traveled to Alaska three times,” the speaker may be considering another trip. The present perfect is often used in job interviews when an employer asks a prospective employee about his or her experience: “Have you ever driven a large vehicle?” “Have you ever used a cash register?”

The present perfect consists of the auxiliary verb have and the perfect/passive form of the main verb. The auxiliary verb is marked for tense. The perfect/passive verb form is used to indicate either the perfect aspect or the passive voice. (The passive voice will be discussed in Part IV.) The perfect/passive form for regular verbs consists of the base form of the verb and the ending -ed.

	Singular	Plural
First Person	I have verb + ed	we have verb + ed
Second Person	you have verb + ed	you have verb + ed
Third Person	he, she, it has verb + ed	they have verb + ed

When a one-syllable word or a word with a stressed final syllable ends in a single consonant sound, double the last letter before adding -ed.

One-syllable word: pet → petted

Word ending in a stressed syllable: admit → admitted

BUT sew → sewed [This word ends in a vowel sound.]

The perfect/passive forms of irregular verbs can be found in the appendix.

The following are common irregular verb patterns:

- Pattern 1: The final d becomes a t.

build	built
lend	lent
spend	spent

- Pattern 2: A -d or -t suffix is added. The vowel changes.

feel /fi:l/	felt /fɛlt/
keep /ki:p/	kept /kɛpt/
sell /sel/	sold /sɒld/

- Pattern 3: An -n or -en suffix is added.

eat	eaten
fall	fallen
know	known

Sometimes the vowel changes.

speak /spi:k/	spoken /spəʊkən/
wear /weə/	worn /wɔ:n/

- Pattern 4: Just the vowel changes.

hold /həʊld/	held /held/
meet /mi:t/	met /met/
sit /sɪt/	sat /sæt/

- Pattern 5: The base form and perfect/passive form are the same.

put	put
hit	hit
cut	cut

I + have = I've moved

PART II

THE PAST TENSE

Verbs in the past tense occur in four forms, each signaling a different aspect. (Aspect is explained in the Introduction.) These forms convey information about actions, states, or events that are remote in the speaker's mind. The past tense most often refers to past time.

SIMPLE PAST: I waited patiently.

PAST PROGRESSIVE: I was waiting for a bus.

PAST PERFECT: I had waited long enough.

PAST PERFECT PROGRESSIVE: I had been waiting for three hours.

In the following units, you will learn about these verb forms and the reasons for using them.

Simple Past

When you refer to past or completed actions, states, or events, use simple past verb forms.

COMPLETED ACTION: We drove three hundred miles.

PAST STATE: They seemed uneasy.

PAST EVENT: The schedule changed.

You can also use the simple past to refer to a hypothetical action, state, or event.

HYPOTHETICAL ACTION: If you joined our team, we could win the championship.

Sentences such as this one will be discussed in more detail in Part IV.

The simple past for regular verbs consists of the verb and the ending -ed.

	Singular	Plural
First Person	I verb + ed	we verb + ed
Second Person	you verb + ed	you verb + ed
Third Person	he, she, it verb + ed	they verb + ed

For regular verbs, the simple past form and the perfect/passive form (see pages 29–30) are the same.

When a one-syllable word or a word with a stressed final syllable ends in a single consonant sound, double the last letter before adding -ed.

One-syllable word: plan → planned

Word ending in a stressed syllable: occur → occurred

BUT row → rowed [This word ends in a vowel sound.]

Irregular verbs have a variety of simple past forms, which can be found in the appendix.

The following are common irregular verb patterns. Some of these irregular simple past forms are the same as the perfect/passive forms.

- Pattern 1: The final d becomes a t. (Same as perfect/passive)

send	sent
lend	lent
spend	spent

- Pattern 2: A -d or -t suffix is added. The vowel changes. (Same as perfect/passive)

feel /fil/	felt /fɛlt/
sleep /slɪp/	slept /slɛpt/
tell /tɛl/	told /tɔld/

- Pattern 3a: The vowel changes. (Different from perfect/passive)

eat /it/	ate /et/
speak /spɪk/	spoke /spɒk/
know /no/	knew /nu/

- Pattern 3b: The vowel changes. (Same as perfect/passive)

hold /hɒld/	held /hɛld/
meet /mi:t/	met /mɛt/
sit /sɪt/	sat /sæt/

- Pattern 4: The base form and the simple past form are the same. (Same as perfect/passive)

put	put
hit	hit
cut	cut

Past Perfect

Use the past perfect when you want to refer to a past action, state, or event that occurred prior to another time in the past. The more recent past time may be expressed as a prepositional phrase or as a clause in which another action, state, or event is mentioned.

PAST ACTION BEFORE PAST TIME: They had finished the project by Friday.

PAST STATE BEFORE PAST ACTION: He had been depressed before he went on vacation.

You can also use the past perfect to refer to a hypothetical action, state, or event.

HYPOTHETICAL ACTION: If they had come earlier, they would have received free tickets.

Sentences such as this one will be discussed in more detail in Part IV.

The past perfect consists of the auxiliary verb have and the perfect/passive form of the main verb. The auxiliary verb is marked for past tense. The perfect/passive verb form is used to indicate either the perfect aspect or the passive voice. (The passive voice will be discussed in Part IV.) The perfect/passive form for regular verbs consists of the base form of the verb and the ending -ed.

	Singular	Plural
First Person	I had verb + ed	we had verb + ed
Second Person	you had verb + ed	you had verb + ed
Third Person	he, she, it had verb + ed	they had verb + ed

When a one-syllable word or a word with a stressed final syllable ends in a single consonant sound, double the last letter before adding -ed.

One-syllable word: pat → patted

Word ending in a stressed syllable: occur → occurred

BUT tow → towed [This word ends in a vowel sound.]

The present/passive forms of irregular verbs can be found in the appendix.

If you would like to see the common patterns that irregular verbs follow, see those listed for the present perfect on pages 29–30.

PART III

THE FUTURE TENSE

Verbs in the future tense occur in four forms, each signaling a different aspect. (Aspect is explained in the Introduction.) Each of these forms can be used to predict future actions, states, or events.

SIMPLE FUTURE: I will work on my project tomorrow.

FUTURE PROGRESSIVE: I will be working for my father next year.

FUTURE PERFECT: By the end of the winter, I will have worked here for five years.

FUTURE PERFECT PROGRESSIVE: On Monday, I will have been working with you for ten years.

In the following units, you will learn about these verb forms and the reasons for using them.

Simple Future

Forming Contractions: Pronouns with the Auxiliary Verb Will

In English, verbs are often combined with other words to form contractions. These shortened forms include an apostrophe (') to indicate missing letters. It is important to learn contractions because you will often hear them in conversation or see them in informal writing. Formal writing, though, rarely contains contractions.

The modal auxiliary verb will is often combined with a pronoun to form a contraction. Notice that an apostrophe indicates that the letters w and i are omitted:

I + will = I'll	we + will = we'll
he + will = he'll	you + will = you'll she + will = she'll	they + will = they'll it + will = it'll

Although sometimes be going to and will can be used interchangeably, there are two special uses. Be going to signals that something is imminent.

To form yes/no questions, begin the question with the auxiliary verb will. Follow will with the subject, be, and the -ing form of the main verb.

Statement: He will be coming along.

Yes/no question: Will he be coming along?

exercise	13-4

3. Takamitsu will be assisting Heather.

4. They will be offering special packages at the end of the season.

5. You will be checking your e-mail daily.

Forming Wh-Questions

In wh-questions, when a question word is the subject of the sentence, the form of the question is similar to the form of a statement.

Statement: Debbie Little will be running for office next year.

Wh-question: Who will be running for office next year?

When the question word is any other part of the sentence, the auxiliary verb will comes after the question word and is followed by the subject, be, and the -ing form of the main verb.

Statement: They will be playing soccer on Sunday.

Wh-question: When will they be playing soccer?

exercise

13-5

Future Perfect

Use the future perfect when you want to refer to a future action, state, or event that will be completed by a specific time in the future.

FUTURE ACTION: By next week, she will have completed the course.

FUTURE STATE: In 2020, we will have known each other for twenty years.

FUTURE EVENT: The ship will have sunk by then.

The future perfect consists of the modal auxiliary verb will, the auxiliary verb have, and the perfect/passive form of the main verb. The perfect/passive verb form is used to indicate either the perfect aspect or the passive voice. (The passive voice will be discussed in Part IV.) The perfect/passive form for regular verbs consists of the base form of the verb and the ending -ed.

	Singular	Plural
First Person	I will have verb + ed	we will have verb + ed
Second Person	you will have verb + ed	you will have verb + ed
Third Person	he, she, it will have verb + ed	they will have verb + ed

When a one-syllable word or a word with a stressed final syllable ends in a single consonant sound, double the last letter before adding -ed.

One-syllable word: flip → flipped

Word ending in a stressed syllable: refer → referred

BUT bow → bowed [This word ends in a vowel sound.]

The perfect/passive forms of irregular verbs can be found in the appendix.

If you would like to see the common patterns irregular verbs follow, see those listed for the present perfect on pages 29–30.

Complete each sentence with the future perfect form of the verb in parentheses. If you need help with irregular verb forms, check the appendix.

_____ much before he makes his presentation.
5. She, save _____ enough money for college by the time classes begin.

Forming Contractions

Contractions are often formed by combining pronouns and the auxiliary verb will or by combining the auxiliary verb will and not. You will often hear these contractions in conversation or see them in informal writing, but you will rarely find them used in formal contexts.

Remember that an apostrophe indicates that at least one letter is omitted and that the letter i in will changes to o in the negative contraction won't:

I'll have moved	I won't have moved
You'll have moved	You won't have moved
He'll have moved	He won't have moved
She'll have moved	She won't have moved
It'll have moved	It won't have moved
We'll have moved	We won't have moved
They'll have moved	They won't have moved

Yes/no question: Will you have completed your coursework by May?

4. By the time we get home, he will have called already.

5. When we get to the movie theater, the movie will have started already.

Forming Wh-Questions

In wh-questions, when the question word is the subject of the sentence, the form of the question is similar to the form of a statement.

Statement: Bruce will have resigned by the time the scandal appears in newspapers.

Wh-question: Who will have resigned by the time the scandal appears in newspapers?

When the question word is any other part of the sentence, the auxiliary verb will comes after the question word, followed by the auxiliary verb have, the subject, and the perfect/passive form of the main verb.

Statement: By the time you're fifty years old, you will have worked at the firm for twenty-five years.

Future Perfect Progressive

When you want to refer to an ongoing action, state, or event or to a habitual action that will continue until or through a specific time, use the future perfect progressive.

HABITUAL ACTION: In October, we will have been commuting together for twenty years.

ONGOING EVENT: By that time, the temperature will have been increasing steadily for five years.

The future perfect progressive consists of three auxiliary verbs—will, have, and be—and the -ing form of the main verb. The auxiliary verbs will and have come first. Next is the perfect/passive form of the verb be—been. The final element of the future perfect progressive is the -ing form of the main verb.

	Singular	Plural
First Person	I will have been verb + ing	we will have been verb + ing
Second Person	you will have been verb + ing	you will have been verb + ing

Contractions are often formed by combining pronouns and the auxiliary verb will or by combining the auxiliary verb will and not. You will often hear these contractions in conversation or see them in informal writing, but you will rarely find them used in formal contexts.

Remember that an apostrophe indicates that at least one letter is omitted and that the letter i in will changes to o in the negative contraction won't:

Wh-question: When the project is finished, who will have been working more than anybody else?

When the question word is any other part of the sentence, the auxiliary verb will comes after the question word and is followed by the subject, the auxiliary verbs have been, and the -ing form of the main verb.

PART IV

IMPERATIVE, PASSIVE, AND HYPOTHETICAL CONDITIONAL

As you read the units that follow, you will learn to use verbs in three special constructions: the imperative, the passive, and the hypothetical conditional.

IMPERATIVE: Be careful!

PASSIVE: We were surprised by the news.

HYPOTHETICAL CONDITIONAL: If I were you, I would look for a new job.

Imperative

When you want to give instructions or directions, you can use the imperative:

INSTRUCTION: Mix the ingredients together.

DIRECTION: Turn right at the corner.

Imperatives are used for other purposes as well:

REQUEST: Close the window, please.

WARNING: Watch out!

INVITATION: Come over to our house tonight.

WISH: Have a nice time.

Using the verb in the imperative construction is easy because there are no endings. Just use the base form (the form found in the dictionary).

Because imperatives are directed toward another person or other persons, the subject you is understood; that is, it is not mentioned except for emphasis.

16-1

Choose a verb from the list to complete the imperative sentences.

answer	bake	be	call	drive
finish	have	meet	open	turn

1. Please _____ the telephone.
2. _____ a nice weekend.
3. _____ the door, please.
4. Please _____ quiet.

5. _____ your work by Friday.
6. _____ an ambulance!
7. _____ the cookies for fifteen minutes.
8. _____ me in the hotel lobby.
9. _____ left at the corner.
10. _____ safely.

Forming Negatives

To form a negative imperative, place the auxiliary verb do and the word not before the base form of the verb.

do not go

Forming Contractions: Don't

In informal or conversational situations, use a contraction.

don't go

16-2

Complete the following sentences using the negative form of the verb provided. Then rewrite the sentence using a contraction.

EXAMPLE: walk

Do not walk on the grass.

Don't walk on the grass.

2. Run

_____ on the deck of the pool.

3. Forget

_____ your homework.

4. Lie

6. Drink

_____ the water.

7. Start

_____ the car yet.

8. Blame

_____ me.

9. Boil

_____ the water too long.

10. Break

Forming Contractions: Let's

The contraction let's (for let us) is often used to make suggestions.

Let's go to the movies.

Let's not wait any longer.

The uncontracted form is used only in very formal situations—religious ceremonies, for example.

Let us join together in prayer.

exercise

16-3

Use let's or let's not to complete the following sentences. Use the verb provided.

1. make _____ something easy for dinner.
2. forget, not
_____ the tickets.
3. stay, not
_____ at the party very late.
4. call
_____ Anna and Charlie.
5. celebrate

Passive

The sentences that you studied in Parts I through III were in the active voice. Most of them had subjects that performed actions. In contrast, sentences in the passive voice have subjects that receive some action.

ACTIVE: George Lucas produced the film.

PASSIVE: The film was produced by George Lucas.

In passive sentences, the doer of the action is sometimes in a prepositional phrase starting with the preposition by, as in “by George Lucas.” In other instances, there is no by phrase because the doer of the action is not important or is not known.

Microcomputers were used in the study.

In passive sentences, the main verb is in the perfect/passive form. You have already studied this form in Parts I, II, and III. To refresh your memory, see pages 29–30, 69, and 101. The auxiliary be precedes the perfect/passive form of the main verb.

Oranges are grown in Florida.

In the present tense, regular verbs follow this pattern:

	Singular	Plural
First Person	I am verb + ed	we are verb + ed
Second Person	you are verb + ed	you are verb + ed
Third Person	he, she, it is verb + ed	they are verb + ed

Contracted forms: I'm, you're, he's, she's, it's, we're, they're

The pattern for regular verbs in the past tense is as follows:

	Singular	Plural
First Person	I was verb + ed	we were verb + ed
Second Person	you were verb + ed	you were verb + ed
Third Person	he, she, it was verb + ed	they were verb + ed

No contracted forms

Both the modal verb will and the auxiliary verb be are used to signal the future:

	Singular	Plural
First Person	I will be verb + ed	we will be verb + ed
Second Person	you will be verb + ed	you will be verb + ed
Third Person	he, she, it will be verb + ed	they will be verb + ed

Contracted forms: I'll, you'll, he'll, she'll, it'll, we'll, you'll, they'll

For the perfect/passive forms of irregular verbs, consult the appendix.

17-1

Complete each passive sentence with the form of the verb indicated in parentheses. Then rewrite the sentence using a pronoun and, if possible, a contraction.

EXAMPLE: The experiment will be performed (perform, future) tomorrow.
It'll be performed tomorrow.

- James _____ (reward, future) for his work.

- The soccer match _____ (reschedule, future).

- All the students in class _____ (invite, present) to the party.

- Carmen _____ (blame, past) for the error.

- The house _____ (destroy, past).

Progressive Verbs in the Passive Voice

Progressive verbs in the passive voice have an additional auxiliary verb be, which has the progressive -ing ending: being.

Present progressive verbs in the passive voice follow this pattern:

	Singular	Plural
First Person	I am being verb + ed	we are being verb + ed
Second Person	you are being verb + ed	you are being verb + ed
Third Person	he, she, it is being verb + ed	they are being verb + ed

Contracted forms: I'm, you're, he's, she's, it's, we're, they're

Past progressive verbs are similar, but the tense of the first auxiliary be changes:

	Singular	Plural
First Person	I was being verb + ed	we were being verb + ed
Second Person	you were being verb + ed	you were being verb + ed
Third Person	he, she, it was being verb + ed	they were being verb + ed

No contracted forms

The future progressive is rarely used, so it will not be presented here.

exercise

17-2

Complete each passive sentence with the form of the verb indicated in parentheses. Then rewrite the sentence using a pronoun and, if possible, a contraction.

EXAMPLE: A new rocket is being designed (design, present progressive).

10. Donations _____ (collect, present progressive) for the poor.

Perfect Verbs in the Passive Voice

Perfect verbs in the passive voice have two auxiliary verbs—have, which carries tense, and be, which is in the perfect/passive form been.

Present perfect verbs in the passive voice follow this pattern:

	Singular	Plural
First Person	I have been verb + ed	we have been verb + ed
Second Person	you have been verb + ed	you have been verb + ed
Third Person	he, she, it has been verb + ed	they have been verb + ed

Contracted forms: I've, you've, he's, she's, it's, we've, they've

Past perfect verbs are similar, but the form of the first auxiliary changes to had to indicate the past tense:

	Singular	Plural
First Person	I had been verb + ed	we had been verb + ed
Second Person	you had been verb + ed	you had been verb + ed
Third Person	he, she, it had been verb + ed	they had been verb + ed

Contracted forms: I'd, you'd, he'd, she'd, it'd, we'd, they'd

Future perfect verbs include the modal verb will, as well as the auxiliaries have and be:

	Singular	Plural
First Person	I will have been verb + ed	we will have been verb + ed
Second Person	you will have been verb + ed	you will have been verb + ed
Third Person	he, she, it will have been verb + ed	they will have been verb + ed

Perfect progressive verbs in the passive voice are extremely rare; they will not be presented here.

9. This computer has been used before.

10. The document is being prepared by the secretary.

Forming Questions

Passive questions are formed in two ways. For yes/no questions and for wh-questions in which the question word is not the subject, the first (or only) auxiliary verb begins the question and is followed by the subject.

Has the letter been sent?

When will the letter be sent?

When the question word is the subject, it begins the question and is followed by the auxiliary and main verbs.

What was sent?

Hypothetical Conditional

The sentences you will study in this unit have two parts: an if clause and a main clause. The if clause consists of a condition that is either slightly possible or impossible; the main clause states the consequences of the condition mentioned in the if clause.

SLIGHTLY POSSIBLE: If he felt better, he would come with us.

IMPOSSIBLE: If my aunt were still alive, she would be a hundred years old today.

To form a hypothetical conditional that refers to present or future time, use the simple past tense in the if clause; use a modal verb (either would, might, or could) and the base form of the main verb in the main clause.

If he studied more, he would earn better grades.

In formal English, were is used in the if clause, even following the first- and third-person singular pronouns.

If I were you, I would look for a job.

If she were here, we could leave.

To form a hypothetical conditional that refers to past time, use the past perfect in the if clause; use would have, might have, or could have and the perfect/passive form of the main verb in the main clause.

If they had asked earlier, I could have helped them.

PHRASAL VERBS AND MODAL AUXILIARY VERBS

As you study the units that follow, you will learn about two special types of verbs: phrasal verbs and modal auxiliary verbs. Phrasal verbs are verb-particle combinations, such as look up in I'll look up his phone number. Modal auxiliary verbs are auxiliaries that signal such meanings as obligation and possibility. Although you have been introduced to modal auxiliary verbs in previous units (will and would, for example), in Part V you will learn more about the subtle shades of meaning that tense and aspect add to these verbs.

Phrasal Verbs

Phrasal verbs are combinations of verbs and particles. Common particles include in, on, off, up, down, and out. Verb + particle combinations carry their own meanings. In other words, the verb and the particle work together to create meaning.

The plane took off ten minutes ago. [“left the ground”]

We turned in our papers. [“submitted”]

You can find the definitions of phrasal verbs in most dictionaries made for learners of English.

Phrasal verbs can appear in all the tense-aspect combinations you have studied so far. The following chart includes the tense-aspect combinations for turn up:

	Present	Past	Future

PART VI

GERUND AND INFINITIVE COMPLEMENTS

Gerunds and infinitives are verb forms, but they are not used as the main verbs in sentences. Gerunds are formed by adding -ing to the base form of a verb: running, talking, doing. (The -ing form is often called the present participle.) Infinitives consist of two parts: the infinitive marker to and the base form of a verb: to run, to talk, to do. Gerunds and infinitives can follow main verbs.

She enjoys playing the guitar.

He promised to sing for us.

Some verbs, such as enjoy, are followed by gerunds. Others, such as promise, are followed by infinitives. But some verbs can be followed by either gerunds or infinitives.

I like reading mysteries.

I like to read mysteries.

Generally, gerunds signal that an action has happened or is especially vivid. Infinitives indicate future or hypothetical events.
